MESSAGE TO TAKLA NATION

We remain at a low risk level during these increasing cases of Covid-19 in British Columbia and our Covid Bylaw is still in effect and enforceable.

Takla nation risk assessment is ongoing.

We are aware that we have had many visitors in community recently and have consistently advised people to practice social distancing and to take advantage of the precautions provided to keep community safe and healthy.

If Covid practices are followed, then transmission levels remain low. Masks, Sanitize and social distancing are the best practices.

All buildings are still closed to walk-ins, and all visits for business are by appointment.

If you are feeling flu like symptoms, call the Northern Health tele-health number (1-844-645-7811). This is the number they discuss their symptoms with a health professional, and a referral for a test swab is made.

Covid hotline to determine if a swab test is needed. Self isolate in your home and monitor your conditions for 14 days
